Sunshine and Rainbows

Sharing Rainbows and Spreading Happiness

Dear parents, carers and children,

It's been a strange few weeks and I am sure you will agree we are all missing one another and are longing to share some happy news. We have received some lovely emails and photographs of the activities that children and their families have been doing at home and it has certainly spread a little happiness amongst the staff and given us an idea that we would like you to help us with.

We are going to start a new fortnightly magazine called 'Sunshine and Rainbows' in the hope that we can spread some smiles and happiness. It will be available to read on the school weebly website fortnightly and produced for the children by the children. Each edition will focus on news and interest of children in a chosen year group. E.g.

- * Photos and captions of home learning activities.
- * Book reviews of favourite books
- * Craft activities
- * Photos and recipes of home baking activities
- * Funny Jokes (appropriate for all ages)
- * Suggestions for children to complete acts of kindness at home.
- * Prayers

- * Poems
- * Quizzes
- * Articles about personal interests
- * Fact files

We want this to be a platform for the children to share the wonderful activities and hard work that is taking place at home.

How will it work?

We ask that children produce one unique piece for the magazine and parents email it to Miss Bolton at clare.bolton@st-nicholas.staffs.sch.uk.

Best Wishes
